CHECKLIST FOR YOUR SPONSOR

Newcomers: this checklist is directly from AFI 36-2103; the AFI that governs the newcomer program. It outlines the responsibilities of your sponsor. You play an important role as well--the info you provide your sponsor will help ensure a smooth transition for you and your family. As your sponsor goes through this checklist you are both encouraged to make specific arrangements and add or delete steps as needed.

AFI 36-2103 Attachment 4: Checklist for Sponsor

- ☐ The first impression a newcomer gets of a base comes from his or her sponsor. The success of a good INTRO program is tied to first impressions. Since the needs of each newcomer vary, a sponsor must find out what those needs are and respond to them.
- ☐ Call the newcomer and tell them you're there to provide information and assistance to make the move smooth as possible. Listen: Many times a newcomer can reduce stress by merely talking to someone "already there." Be open and honest and stay positive. Remember, it's not good enough to just say "let me know what you need," anticipate their needs.
 - ☐ Ask these questions:
 - Will your family members accompany you? Names, ages, interests?
 - Do you need information about other services? Banking, child care, education, etc.?
 - Do you want me to meet you when you arrive? Date, time, location.
 - Do you want a post office box?
 - Is there anything else you need?
- ☐ Pick up a sponsor kit from your Unit INTRO Program Manager. Personalize it by taking out unnecessary information and adding information requested. Mail it within seven calendar days.
- ☐ Include a personalized letter from your commander and your own personal letter. Include your home and duty phone numbers and address. Remind newcomers to let you know of any changes to their plans. Reconfirm the departure date, arrival date, and reporting-in date and ensure member is aware of the 24 hour arrival point. Upon arrival, personally meet the newcomer. Make the member feel welcomed.
- ☐ Visit the base housing office and get information about on- and off-base housing. If the newcomer is interested in residing on-base, remind them to apply in advance.
- ☐ Make temporary lodging arrangements for the newcomer and family and communicate details by personal email or phone.
- ☐ Personally meet your newcomer upon arrival or arrange for them to be met if you are unable to do so personally due to duty commitments. Make sure that you directly email and/or phone them to tell them who will be meeting them upon arrival or where to go for transportation at an airport etc. Make sure you bring transportation that will accommodate the entire family as well as pets.
- ☐ Personally take the newcomer to lodging.
- ☐ Personally take the newcomer to A&FRC and encourage them to use the Relocation Program.
- ☐ Introduce the newcomer to his/her commander, supervisor, key personnel and fellow co-workers.
- ☐ Show the newcomer around the base facilities such as commissary, fitness centers, chapel, and Family Center.
- ☐ Give the newcomer a community tour.
- ☐ Accompany the newcomer through in-processing and check-in procedures.

History

One of the Air Forces most distinguished fighter wings, the 4th Fighter Wing was born in the hearts of the Royal Air Force Eagle Squadrons volunteers who fought for England against the Nazis even before the United States entered World War II. In September 1942 the Eagle Squadrons became the 4th Fighter Group, which destroyed 1,016 German planes, more than any group in history. In the Korean War the 4th Fighter Interceptor Wing destroyed more enemy MiGs than the entire rest of the US Air Force combined. Since that time, through Vietnam, DESERT STORM and our wars of today, the 4th Fighter Wing has been the tip of the spear aimed at America's enemies. On June 2, 2011 the 4th Fighter Wing was awarded the first ever James "Jimmy" Doolittle Award for outstanding heritage by the Air Force Historical Foundation. Seymour Johnson Field, named after Goldsboro native and Naval Aviator hero Lt. Seymour Johnson, was activated in June 1942, and was deactivated in May 1946. Community leaders, led by Goldsboro Mayor Scott B. Berkeley, Sr., were successful in their campaign to reactivate the base in 1956. Seymour Johnson Air Force Base became active as a Tactical Air Command base, and has been an active Air Combat Command (ACC) base since the Air Force's reorganization in June 1992. The 4th Fighter Wing was redesignated 4th Tactical Fighter Wing in July 1958; 4th Wing in April 1991; and 4th Fighter Wing in December 1995. For additional history visit the installation's homepage.

Mission

The 4th Fighter Wing is the host unit at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, and accomplishes its training and operational missions with F-15E Strike Eagles. Two of the wings' four fighter squadrons are operational units, capable of deploying world-wide on short notice and immediately generating combat power. The other two squadrons are responsible for training all F-15E aircrews for the Air Force. The 916th ARW, a tenant unit at Seymour, is an Air Force Reserve Command Wing under Air Mobility Command. It is assigned 10 KC-135R Stratotankers.

Population Served

Seymour Johnson currently has over 530 active duty officers, and over 3, 800 enlisted members and their families stationed here. The base also employs over 1,000 civilian employees plus numerous contractors. The city of Goldsboro has a population of over 37,639, while the county has a population of over 112,000 and continues to grow everyday.

Sponsorship

If you are within 30 days of relocating to Seymour Johnson and have requested a sponsor but have not been contacted by him/her, or you've received a short-notice assignment, please contact your Unit INTRO Monitor or our servicing Military Personnel Section at 919-722-8686, immediately. Sponsorship

Moving is a way of life for service members and their families. Resources like MilitaryINSTALLATIONS, Plan My Move and Military OneSource can help smooth that transition. But, for many newcomers, a sponsor adds that personal touch. The Sponsorship Program supports sponsors with training and access to important information and resources.

Sponsorship Program goals include the following:

- Providing newcomers with a sense of belonging
- Easing the transition for inbound service members or civilians and their family members
- Increasing productivity
- Helping newcomers make informed decisions
- Cultivating new friendships
- Improving morale

A sponsor is assigned by a newcomer's gaining unit and helps the newcomer before, during and after a move. If you haven't been assigned a sponsor, you can request a sponsor through your new unit. Units try to match sponsors and service members by rank and family status.

Sponsorship duties include the following:

- Contacting the service member and family with an introductory email
- Following up with the member's preferred method of contact
- Sending information about the new community and duty assignment, responding to questions and providing resource information
- Confirming transportation and lodging arrangements

Assisting with post office arrangements
Meeting service members and family members upon arrival
Accompanying service members to unit check-in point
Introducing service members to the Military and Family Support Center and loan closet, if available
Orienting service members and families to the installation and key locations, such as the commissary
Note: Responsibilities may vary based on service-specific policies and guidance.

For more information on the Sponsorship Program, contact your installation Relocation Assistance Program office or, in the Marine Corps, the Information and Referral office.

Sponsorship training

If you are already a sponsor, visit My Training Hub and log in with your Common Access Card, or CAC, to take the eSponsorship Application & Training. The course will walk you through your sponsorship duties and help you find the resources and information your newcomer is going to need.

Families can be an important part of the sponsorship process. If your family members want to learn more about sponsorship, they can access the Sponsorship Awareness for Families through My Training Hub with an email address and password. The Sponsorship Awareness for Families course includes the same resources and information as the CAC-enabled version.

Service-specific information

Army - Sponsorship is mandated for all soldiers in grades of E1-06, and encouraged for Army civilian employees. Sponsors will be assigned via the Army Career Tracker Sponsorship Module and must complete sponsorship training course #1B-F43(v) in the Army Training Requirements and Resources System. Soldiers who are PCSing must complete DA Form 5434 in the Army Career Tracker Sponsorship Module to provide gaining commands pertinent information required to assign a sponsor who can meet their needs.

Marine Corps - Gaining unit commands within the continental United States assign sponsors upon request. Overseas commands assign sponsors automatically; however, if one is not assigned, you may send a request to the gaining command using the Sample Sponsorship Request form. Contact the installation Information and Referral office for more information.

Navy - Command sponsor and indoctrination responsibilities begin upon receipt of permanent change of station orders and continue until the sailor has become an integral part of the new command. Commanding officers should ensure all incoming personnel receive command indoctrination training within 30 days of arrival or within three drill weekends. Local commands can get assistance with the Sponsorship Program through the Fleet and Family Support Center.

Air Force - Gaining unit command support staff assigns sponsors upon receipt of assignment notice. Assigned sponsors then make contact with their inbound service members. Commands and sponsors may contact the Relocation Assistance Program managers at the Airmen and Family Readiness Center for additional information or assistance.

National Guard Bureau - Air National Guard and Army National Guard members should follow service-specific guidance (Air Force and Army).

Youth Sponsorship Program

Even before they arrive, kids have the chance to get to meet a new friend and become acquainted with their new installation through the Youth Sponsorship Program. They can exchange emails, talk on the phone or chat online. For more information, visit MilitaryINSTALLATIONS and click on Youth Services and your new installation. The youth program staff at your new installation can offer more information on the Youth Sponsorship Program. Families with children may also want to visit Military Kids Connect, an online community for military children and youth. The site offers games, videos and links to teen-led installation tours.

If you are driving from the Raleigh/Durham airport, take Interstate 40 East for approximately 10 miles. Stay in the left lane and exit onto Interstate 440 East, Goldsboro. Then exit onto Highway 70 East to Goldsboro. Once into Goldsboro, take the exit to Seymour Johnson AFB (still on Hwy 70 East), then exit at the Seymour Johnson/Snow Hill exit. Driving from Kinston Jetport

If you are driving from the Kinston Jetport, exit on to Highway 70 West to the Goldsboro exit. This will take you onto Berkeley Boulevard, which will lead you directly into the Main Gate of the Base. Again, the Welcome Center is on the right, just outside the gate.

Bus Service

Trailways and Greyhound bus lines also offer service to Goldsboro. If you have not notified your sponsor to meet you or cannot reach him/her, the following taxicabs will, but the cost is expensive:

The term vehicle generally includes automobiles, motorcycles, vans, trailers and boats regularly parked or garaged overnight. Service members and their families will want to understand their state's laws on registration and licensing before moving to a new state. Visit the USA.gov Motor Vehicle Services page for links to state-specific websites.

Motor vehicle laws

State and local laws regulate the operation of motor vehicles, and these laws can vary by location. Many states regulate the following:

- Seatbelt use

- Child safety seats

Learn more about motor vehicle laws in your state at the Distraction.gov State Laws page.

The term "vehicle" generally includes automobiles, motorcycles, vans, trailers and boats regularly parked or garaged overnight. Further, your vehicle must be properly registered. Even though you are in the Military, you may be required to register your vehicle in-state and obtain an in-state license within a few months of moving. Access complete information on insurance, driver's licensing, and where and how to register your vehicle by visiting the State Department of Motor Vehicles website.

State Laws

You and your passengers must always wear seatbelts while driving, you will be ticketed and issued heavy fines if seatbelts are not secured. State law requires that all children under 8 years of age and 80 pounds be properly restrained in child seats. If the vehicle has a rear seat, a child less than five years of age and less than 40 pounds in weight shall be properly secured in a rear seat, unless the child restraint system is designed for use with air bags. Some states also require younger, smaller children to sit in the back seat.

Motorcycles and their operators are subject to special laws. If you own and operate a motorcycle, you must comply with those laws. Visit the State Department of Motor Vehicles website for more information.

Education - Local Schools

How do I choose a school?

Choosing the right school for children is a priority for many military families. Finding the right educational setting for each child requires a careful examination of the available options, whether you live on and off the installation. "Choosing a School for Your Child," a publication from the U.S. Department of Education, offers checklists and questions to assist parents in making the right choices.

How do I find out about schools near my new duty station?

Several quality online tools are available. Military OneSource is a free service offered by the Department of Defense to service members and their families to help with a broad range of concerns including education, parenting and child care, relocation and the concerns of families with special-needs members. An educational consultation with a specialty consultant is available, free of charge, and can help you address specific educational needs and goals.

How can I help plan for a successful transition?

Parents often want to know about the availability of extracurricular activities and sports, or the availability of advanced classes for their children. While there are other sources that can provide some information on these topics, it is usually best to get this information by contacting the schools directly.

Education - Local Schools/Overseas

Moving from one installation to another in the United States can be challenging enough; but moving with your family overseas can be even more complex. One of the most important challenges can be summed up in one question:

"Where will my children go to school?"

Where do I start?

Start with MilitaryINSTALLATIONS to learn more about your new installation. In particular, read the installation's education article. All overseas installations dedicate a portion of the education article to discussing the education options available in the local community, as well as the Department of Defense schools on the installation, if available. Most overseas installations with accompanied family members have one or more Department of Defense school.

What is the difference between a Department of Defense school and an international or national school?

The Department of Defense Education Activity, or DoDEA, operates schools in 11 foreign countries, Guam and Puerto Rico. All DoDEA schools are fully accredited by U.S. accreditation agencies and maintain high academic standards with well-rounded educational programs. Visit the DoDEA website for more detailed information.

The DoDEA's student preregistration system helps streamline the registration process and allows school officials to better predict school enrollment, make more informed decisions regarding teacher and staff requirements, and prepare for special services and supplies. Parents can preregister their children by visiting the DoDEA Online Student Pre-Registration site.

The U.S. Department of State's Office of Overseas Schools works to promote quality educational opportunities for families of American citizens overseas. If a Department of Defense school is not available, visit this site to learn more about the schools in your new area.

In general, international schools are English-language schools at overseas locations. National schools are schools where courses are taught in the native language. The curriculum and grading system of an international school tends to be similar to the traditional American education system. This may be an important consideration if your family will be returning to the U.S. before a child graduates from high school.

Where can I find a list of international schools in the country where my family is moving?

You can find a directory of overseas schools on the U.S. Department of State's Schools Worldwide page. The listing includes schools that receive assistance from the U.S. Department of State, as well as other international, private, religious and public schools.

How do I decide what school is best for my child?

Although you may not have as many choices as you had in the United States, the process for choosing a school for your child is the same. You can begin by making a list of possible schools. Next, you'll want to find out more information about each school. Talk to the relocation personnel at the Military and Family Support Center and with your sponsor, who may be able to put you in touch with other families with children around the same ages as yours. You may also want to contact the school and ask for references.

Once you have narrowed down your options, you may decide you want to schedule an interview with the school or schools. Here are some considerations you may want to discuss:

- Curriculum
- Grading system
- Tuition
- Accreditations
- Teachers and other staff

Meals
 Extracurricular programs
 Transportation
 Schedule
 Before- and after-school programs

Now that I have chosen a school, how do I successfully transition my child?

Start planning for a successful school transition as soon as you learn about your move. The more your child knows about what to expect, the more confident your child will feel on the first day of school. Allow your child to be a part of the decision-making process, if appropriate, and take your child's opinions into account.

Education - Training (College/Technical)

Education - Training (College/Technical)

The Education and Training section offers career information and counseling on education opportunities. Professional guidance counselors can help you find the right college program.

Tuition rates at NC state institutions:

Members of the armed services stationed in and concurrently living in North Carolina may be charged a rate which is equivalent to the in-state tuition rates. A dependent relative (wife, husband, son, and daughter) of a service member stationed in North Carolina is eligible for in-state tuition while living in North Carolina with the service member. In the event a military member leaves North Carolina (PCS), a student previously provided in-state tuition rates shall continue to be eligible for the in-state rates as long as they maintain continuous enrollment. Individuals assigned to North Carolina military installations, not paying North Carolina taxes and not enrolled, need to understand that upon retirement or separation they and their dependents lose the in-state tuition status until they qualify as a resident. To qualify as a resident, for tuition purposes, a person must become a legal resident (contact the college for guidelines) for at least 12 months immediately prior to classification.

Library

Air Force Library Program

The Air Force Library Program provides an avenue for airmen and their families to continue their professional and self-developmental educational pursuits, as well as resources for productive use of leisure time. Libraries also procure mission-essential technical publications to support the mission and technical requirements of military personnel. Many online products, including downloadable audio books, ebooks and college-level practice tests, are available from installation library websites and on the Air Force Portal. These libraries house a variety of print and audio-visual materials for checkout to eligible customers. In addition, Air Force libraries offer customer-use computers with Internet access, free of charge, and most have wireless Internet capabilities. Many installation libraries conduct special programs, such as story hours and summer reading programs for youngsters and a variety of classes, author and book talks, and holiday or Air Force heritage events.

The Air Force Library and Information System consists of 82 libraries (63 general, eight academic and 11 scientific and technical), as well as nine geographically separated library branches in Europe and five Learning Resource

Much like living in the local community, you will sign a tenant lease agreement, typically for a term of one-year beginning on the Lease Commencement Date and terminating on the Lease Expiration Date. Privatized Housing at Seymour Johnson comes with a no security deposit or application fee. The lease includes a military clause and a lease termination clause. If your move occurs prior to the allotment start date, then you will need to pay the pro-rated rent directly to the Property Manager. The Resident Occupancy Agreement spells out all relevant rent payment terms and conditions.

Gas and Electric Utilities

At this location, homes in the community have been metered and are in the data collection and review process, during this time the Utilities will continue to be included in the rental payment, without a separate payment to be made by the residents. Household Goods - Overview

Arranging Household Goods Shipments

As soon as you are alerted to your upcoming permanent change of station move, you can start getting your house and family ready. Clean up and get rid of junk. Hold a yard sale or donate serviceable items you no longer need. Gather important family records.

If you are moving overseas, begin to plan what items will go in unaccompanied baggage, in your household goods shipment and in permanent storage. Remember, in overseas areas, the electric current may be different and houses are generally much smaller than those in the United States. These are good questions to ask your sponsor.

Household Goods Shipping Process

The Defense Personal Property System is the online system you will use to manage your household goods shipment. For how-to guides to assist with your application go to Move.mil.

Pets

Moving with your pet includes researching airline requirements and quarantine restriction laws in your new location. Many airlines have requirements for size, weight, breed, number of animals, kennel construction, documentation and seasonal limitations. Small pets may be shipped on military flights, but availability and regulations are always changing. Search Move.mil for more general information on shipping pets.

Many international locations have strict importation laws, including extended quarantines and restrictions on breeds or types of animals. Carefully research these rules as they could impact your moving schedule. You may also find some locations in the United States that have restrictions on certain animals and breeds. Review your new installation's "Shipping Pets" in MilitaryINSTALLATIONS for details.

"It's Your Move"

Review the U.S. Transportation Command booklet, "It's Your Move," for detailed information on weight allowances, the household goods shipping process, storage, automobile shipments, claims processes and the customer satisfaction survey.

If traveling with you (which is the most convenient for him), NEVER leave your pet alone in a parked vehicle.

Special Needs

The Exceptional Family Member Program

When you're moving, your to-do list can seem long enough to fill a packing box. But if your family has special medical or educational needs, help is available before, during and after your move. Enrollment in the Exceptional Family Member Program provides military families with special needs consideration during the assignment process and access to support services to help navigate the medical and educational system.

The Exceptional Family Member Program has three components:

- Identification and enrollment of a family member with special medical or educational needs
- Assignment coordination to determine the availability of services at the projected duty station
- Support to help families identify and access programs and services

Who should enroll in the program?

Family members with special medical or educational needs should enroll in the EFMP including spouses, children and dependent adults who:

- Require special medical services for a chronic condition such as asthma, attention deficit disorder, diabetes, multiple sclerosis, etc.

- Receive ongoing services from a medical specialist

- Have significant behavioral health concerns

- Receive early intervention or special education services through an individualized education program or individualized family service plan

Why enroll in the program?

Enrollment in the EFMP ensures that family members' documented medical and educational needs receive consideration during the assignment coordination process. Through the EFMP family support office, families can receive assistance with navigating military and community support systems.

How do families enroll in the program?

Families can enroll by obtaining paperwork from the EFMP medical point of contact at their local military treatment facility, or, in the Marine Corps, from Marine Corps Community Services. The forms for enrollment are:

Department of Defense Form 2792, "Family Member Medical Summary." The service member, spouse or adult family member completes the first page to document medical needs. The family member's physician or other qualified medical professional completes the rest and includes the diagnosis, frequency of care, medication and any special accommodations the family member requires.

Department of Defense Form 2792-1, "Special Education/Early Intervention Summary." The sponsor, parent or legal guardian completes items one through seven of the first page to document educational needs. School or early intervention program personnel complete the remainder of the form, which includes the child's educational diagnosis. A copy of the individualized education program or individual family service plan pairs with the form.

What is assignment coordination?

The military mission is the driving force behind the assignment process, but enrollment in the EFMP ensures that family members' documented needs are considered in the process. Assignment coordination occurs when the personnel command requests that Department of Defense medical or educational professionals review a family member's documented needs to determine availability of services at a projected location. Assignment coordination is important because access to appropriate medical and educational services may be limited in some areas, especially in overseas and remote locations.

What is family support?

The EFMP family support function helps families identify and access programs and services. Family support includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- Information and referral for military and community services
- Warm handoffs to the EFMP at the next location
- Nonclinical case management

What is the role of the family support provider?

The role of the family support provider includes:

- Helping families on the path to empowerment by providing information and referral services, non-medical case management, education and other supports
- Helping relocating families pinpoint and navigate formal programs and services and informal supports
- Bridging gaps in programs, services and support by informing families on what is available, and how to apply for benefits and entitlements

How do families access family support?

Access the EFMP family support by visiting or calling your local installation Military and Family Support Center or by contacting Military OneSource at 800-342-9647 and asking for a referral to a special needs consultant.

How can families help ease the transition to a new school system following a move?

In addition to the support available from the installation Military and Family Support Centers and Military OneSource consultants, MilitaryINSTALLATIONS provides some suggestions for making the transition easier as your child enters a new school system following a move to a new duty station. The article, "Preparing for Your Move," provides tips for what to do prior to and after your move to help create a smooth transfer between schools.

Additionally, military families can learn about the Education Directory for Children with Special Needs for information on special-needs issues and listings of national and local resources for early intervention (for infants and toddlers) and special education (for school-age children) services.

Special Needs - EFMP Enrollment

Military families often relocate every two or three years. Below are suggestions for making the transition easier as your child enters a new school system following your family's move to a new duty station in the states or a Department of Defense Education Activity school overseas.

Relocating: things to remember

At least 30 days prior to your move:

Notify the school or early intervention agency of your impending move and request a copy of your child's educational records.

Obtain your child's most recent transcripts, grade reports and all pertinent medical records, including inoculation records, prescriptions and dosages.

Contact the new school district or early intervention agency for specific information about programs on or near the installation where you will be living. Use the State, School District and Installation Information sections of the Education Directory for Children with Special Needs to identify the districts in your new location and find information about early intervention agencies. The directory provides helpful tools to assist families with infants and toddlers and school-age children transitioning to a new educational program.

If your child has special needs and is receiving early intervention or special education services, request a copy of the following information:

Latest individualized education program or individualized family service plan, including the most recent progress report

Your child's most recent eligibility determination report for special education services, including early intervention

The names of textbooks or other materials that have been effective for your child

Adaptive equipment and assistive technology such as communication devices or modified key boards that your child uses in school

As you leave your duty station, you should:

Hand carry a copy of your child's inoculation records and the information you collected about your child's educational program.

Take any special equipment, medication refills and supplies (for example, hearing aid batteries) that your child may need in the next two months.

Keep contact information for your child's current teacher or early intervention specialist in case there are questions at your new school or early intervention agency.

Provide the staff at your child's current school with the contact information for the special education staff at your child's new school to speed the transfer of your child's information.

When you arrive at your new duty station, you should:

Take the hand-carried educational information, including immunization records, with you to enroll your child in the local school.

Notify the new school that your child has special needs. Sign appropriate releases so the new school can request official copies of your child's records.

Request copies of any publications about the school's special education services.

It is easier for the receiving school to start the appropriate special education or early intervention services for your child when you hand-carry important information about your child. The current individualized education program will be recognized by the school's special education committee and interim services can be provided within days. Each state has different policies or procedures that guide its special education and early intervention programs. Do not expect to use the same forms and procedures that were used at your previous location. You should expect that every effort will be made to meet your child's needs.

Special Needs - EFMP Family Support

Background

The Education Directory for Children with Special Needs was developed to support military families who have children (birth through 21) with special educational needs. Military families can consult the directory for information on special-needs issues and listings of national and local resources for early intervention (for infants and toddlers) and special education (for school-age children) services.

Highlights

The Education Directory for Children with Special Needs is a valuable resource for military families. The directory:

helps families identify the early intervention agencies and public school districts located near the installation prior to moving allows users to make more informed decisions and more easily navigate local early intervention and special education systems includes information on a range of disabilities affecting school-age children and on early intervention service providers and resources for infants and toddlers

provides practical suggestions (Tools for a Smooth Transition) for relocating families

Special Needs - Health Care

Military treatment facilities

The clinics and services available at military treatment facilities vary by location. Before you move, identify the military treatment facility that will serve you, visit its website to learn about the services available and get contact information.

Moving to a new TRICARE region

If you anticipate a move to another TRICARE region, work with your local TRICARE service center or case manager before your move to ensure the transition is as smooth as possible. On arrival at the new duty location, you or your sponsor should contact the beneficiary counseling and assistance coordinator or the TRICARE service center to ensure the transition plans are in place and to obtain authorizations for TRICARE Extended Care Health Option services, if applicable.

Beneficiary counseling and assistance coordinator

All TRICARE regional offices and most military treatment facilities are staffed with beneficiary counseling and assistance coordinators. They provide information, guidance and assistance on benefit options, TRICARE Prime enrollment, special authorizations, status of claims, eligibility and assistance with referrals and appointments. If you or your family member has more severe needs, contact your TRICARE case manager.

Case management

Case management involves a team of health care professionals who help you and your family find solutions to complex health problems. It is important to inform your case manager if you are moving as he or she will connect you with the case manager at your new location.

Extended Care Health Option

The Extended Care Health Option provides financial assistance to beneficiaries of active-duty service members who qualify based on specific mental or physical disabilities. The Extended Care Health Option offers an integrated set of services and supplies beyond the basic TRICARE program. Regional contractors in each of the TRICARE regions and overseas administer the program.

Transporting medical equipment

Contact your installation's household goods/transportation office for information on special procedures for the transportation of medical equipment.

Federal and state health care programs

Medicaid provides health coverage for individuals and families with low incomes or have a disability. The department of social services or the department of medical assistance may administer the Medicaid program in your state. Supplemental Security Income, or SSI, is a cash assistance program intended to meet basic needs for disabled adults and children who have limited resources. Families must reapply after moving to a new state.

Many states offer services for children with special health care needs funded by the Maternal and Child Health Services Block Grant, or Title V. State departments of health websites and local health departments can provide information on state health benefits. The Maternal and Child Health Bureau website has more information, including state points of contact.

Other important resources

TRICARE debt collection assistance officers assigned to regional offices and military treatment facilities worldwide can help beneficiaries understand and get assistance with debt collection issues related to TRICARE.

Installation Specific Information

The purpose of the Special Needs Identification Program (SNIP), formally the Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP), is to insure that every family relocating (PCS) will have the specialized services at the prospective gaining base prior to approval of travel. SNIP attempts to assign families with special needs to or near those bases with the specialized medical or educational facilities (military or civilian) to meet their needs. Once a specialized need has been identified by a medical provider, it is the military sponsors responsibility to enroll their family member in SNIP and supply the supporting documentation.

An active duty member's spouse, child, or other military recognized family member with a special medical, mental health, and/or educational needs requiring specialized care is eligible for SNIP.

Enrollment -- The EFMP office has primary responsibility for SNIP and is your first stop to enroll in the program. An interview will be conducted to identify the type of care necessary to maintain, improve, or establish a treatment care plan.

Appropriate documentation such as medical summaries, Individualized Education Plans (IEPs) or Individualized Family Service Plans (IFSPs) must be submitted that clearly identify the need for enrollment. The sponsor is responsible for gathering and submitting these documents. Enrollment in the program is mandatory once a special need is identified.

Enrollment in the SNIP does not prevent Air Force personnel from getting an assignment. Enrollment can provide for an initial deferment or reassignment to set up a program of medical treatment or special education. Once such a program is established, the member reverts to worldwide assignable status. Special assignment consideration will continue as long as the condition exists.

As a parent or spouse of a special needs person, it is your responsibility to contact the SNIP office and let personnel know you and your family have arrived.

For additional information about this program contact the EFMP Office at 919-722-8537 or DSN 312-722-8537.

Education - Special Education/EIS

Early Intervention and Special Education Services

Children from birth to 3 years of age

The Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, or IDEA, requires all states and territories to provide early intervention services to children from birth to 3 years of age who have or are at risk for having developmental delays. Local school districts or health departments often provide these early intervention services. The program is called by different names in different areas, but it is often called Part C (because Part C is the section of the law that pertains to early intervention). The National Early Childhood Technical Assistance Center provides a list of state Part C directors and funded programs on their website. Also, Military OneSource can assist you in identifying early intervention programs in your area.

When moving, you should hand carry copies of your child's individual family service plan and the most current evaluation reports to your new home to ensure they are not lost.

Children between 3 and 21 years of age

The IDEA requires all states and territories provide special education services to eligible children between the ages of 3 and 21. Each local school district has a special education director, and each school should have an individualized education program team or school-based committee that attends to students with special education needs.

The IDEA requires that if a child transfers to a different district in the same state, the receiving school must provide comparable services until the new school develops and implements a new individualized education program. If a child transfers to another state, the receiving district must provide comparable services until the receiving district completes an evaluation and creates a new individualized education program.

If you are moving and your child receives special education and related services, you should hand carry all pertinent school and medical documents, including the individualized education program and current evaluation reports. Hand carrying these documents ensures that they are not lost and allows the new school district to begin the process as soon as you move.

Other resources

Parent Training and Information Centers serve families and adults with special needs from birth to age 26. They assist families in getting appropriate education and services for their children, work to improve education services for all children, train and inform parents and professionals, resolve problems between families and schools or other agencies, and connect those with disabilities to community resources. Find out more at the Center for Parent Information and Resources website.

Installation Specific Information

Special Needs Identification Program (SNIP)

The SNIP is designed to provide assistance to the children and adult dependents of eligible military personnel who are emotionally, physically and mentally challenged. These are individual cases and should be referred to SNIP so that all services and education may be coordinated for the in-bound personnel.

This assistance may be in the line of counseling, special medical or educational assistance, and financial assistance. This office also maintains a respite care resource list. Active-duty Air Force members with a special needs family member may be eligible to receive funds for respite care from the Air Force Aid Society. See the SNIP office for details.

The EFMP Office located in the main Medical Group Building is the point of contact for SNIP and is your first stop to enroll in the program. An interview will be conducted to identify the type of care necessary to maintain, improve, or establish a treatment care plan. Appropriate documentation such as medical summaries, Individualized Education Plans (IEPs) or Individualized Family Service Plans (IFSPs) must be submitted that clearly identify the need for enrollment. The sponsor is responsible for gathering and submitting these documents. Enrollment in the program is mandatory once a special need is identified.

Enrollment in the SNIP does not prevent Air Force personnel from getting an assignment. Enrollment can provide for an initial deferment or reassignment to set up a program of medical treatment or special education. Once such a program is established, the member reverts to worldwide assignable status. Special assignment consideration will continue as long as the condition exists.

As a parent or spouse of a special needs person, it is your responsibility to contact the SNIP office and let personnel know you and your family have arrived.

Special Needs Children arriving at Seymour Johnson must bring the following information:

Health Care - Overview

Moving with TRICARE

When you move, TRICARE moves with you. It's there before, during and when you get to your next duty station. It's available worldwide. There are steps you need to take to make sure changes to your TRICARE coverage go smoothly. With your move, you may have to use a different TRICARE option.

Please note:

You and your family members have to show as TRICARE eligible in the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System, or DEERS.

For TRICARE plan information, visit the TRICARE Plan Information Kits page.

Regional and overseas contractor information is available on TRICARE's Contact Us page.

Print out the TRICARE contact wallet card and keep it with you.

Always keep personal contact information current in DEERS, especially your address and email.

Prime options

Prime options in the United States

If you live in a Prime Service Area, then TRICARE Prime is an option for you. A Prime Service Area is usually within a 40-mile area of a military clinic or hospital. With Prime, you have a primary care manager, who may be a military or civilian doctor or a team of doctors, who manages your health care needs.

Some active-duty family members may enroll in the U.S. Family Health Plan, or USFHP. The USFHP offers a TRICARE Prime-like option in six areas of the United States. You'll get all care (including prescription drug coverage) from a network provider. With the USFHP, you can't get care at military hospitals and clinics or from TRICARE network providers (emergency exceptions). You have to work with USFHP when get care overseas. Visit the U.S. Family Health Plan page for more information.

If you don't live in a Prime Service Area, TRICARE Prime Remote is your other option. Eligible family members have to live with their active-duty sponsor (with some exceptions) to enroll in TRICARE Prime Remote. In most cases, your primary care manager is a network provider. If there's no local network provider, you can choose any TRICARE-authorized provider to act as your primary care manager.

Prime options overseas (including U.S. territories)

In overseas locations, you have two options for care:

TRICARE Overseas Program-Prime is for active-duty service members assigned overseas. Units are near military clinics and hospitals. To enroll in the program, family members must be command-sponsored. Your primary care manager is a military provider or team of providers.

TRICARE Overseas Program-Prime Remote is available in certain remote overseas locations. It's for assigned active-duty service members and their command-sponsored family members. Your primary care manager is the overseas contractor who you contact through regional and country specific call centers.

Note: Active-duty service members must enroll in a Prime option.

When you know you're going to move, call your current TRICARE stateside overseas contractor. Find out if your new location is in a new region and talk about your TRICARE options.

Transferring your TRICARE Prime/Prime Remote coverage

When you move, your Prime options may change. You have to transfer your enrollment if you move to a different region. Some family members may have to disenroll and use TRICARE Standard. Options may vary for each family member. Remember, to enroll in a Prime option overseas, family members must be command-sponsored.

If you move within your current region, you still need to find out if your Prime option changes. You may only need to get a new primary care manager. Again, call your current TRICARE regional or USFHP contractor to talk about your move and your TRICARE options. Follow these steps to transfer your enrollment by phone:

Call your current TRICARE regional or USFHP contractor to transfer your enrollment or get a new primary care manager. The contractor will ask about you, your family, where you're moving to and the estimated date you'll get to your new duty station. Your current contractor then shares your information with your new contractor. If you only need a new primary care manager, they will work with you to make that happen. Your new contractor will call you within five business days of your expected arrival date to discuss your Prime enrollment and primary care manager options. Your enrollment transfer will be the day your new contractor calls and you agree to the transfer. It may take up to four business days to record your transfer. You will still have Prime coverage with your old region until the transfer is complete.

Update your address in DEERS as soon as you get to your new location, even if you're in temporary housing.

Log into milConnect to check on your enrollment. You can see who your primary care manager is and print out an enrollment card.

Note: Don't disenroll from Prime before you move.

Other ways to transfer your enrollment include:

Transfer your enrollment online using TRICARE's Beneficiary Web Enrollment Tool. The Beneficiary Web Enrollment Tool will be available in 2016 for those moving stateside from an overseas location. In the Beneficiary Web Enrollment Tool, you can set a date up to 90 days in the future as your enrollment transfer date.

Call your new contractor when you arrive in your new duty location. They can transfer your enrollment over the phone.

Download an enrollment form and mail it to the regional contractor for your new region. Remember to note the date you want the transfer to go into effect. Enrollment information for the USFHP is available on the U.S. Family Health Plan page.

Enroll when you in-process at your new duty location.
To learn more, visit the TRICARE Moving page.

TRICARE Standard and Extra

TRICARE Standard and Extra is an option for active-duty family members. You don't have to enroll—coverage is automatic as long as you show as TRICARE eligible in DEERS. With TRICARE Standard or Extra you can see any TRICARE-authorized provider, non-network or network. You pay a deductible and costs shares.

If you visit a non-network provider, you're use the Standard option. You may have to pay in full up front and file a claim for reimbursement.

If you visit a network provider, you're using the Extra option. You only need to pay your cost share at your appointment.

If you're a family member and don't want to enroll in TRICARE Overseas Program-Prime, or can't enroll because you're not command-sponsored, you have TRICARE Overseas Program-Standard. You can see any civilian provider (except in the Philippines).

If you want or have to use TRICARE Standard when you move, call the new regional contractor to disenroll from Prime when you get to your new location.

If you already using TRICARE Standard and Extra:

Once you get to your new location, update your personal information in DEERS as soon as possible. You can update your personal information through milConnect, through TRICARE's Beneficiary Web Enrollment Tool or calling the Defense Manpower Data Center toll-free at 800-538-9552; TTY/TTD: 866-363-2883.

Find a provider. If you are within the United States, you can find network and non-network providers by region through the TRICARE Find a Doctor page. If you are overseas, you can find a provider through the TRICARE Overseas website or call the overseas regional call center.

If you're in a new region, the claims address changes. Check the TRICARE Filing Claims page for your new mailing address.

TRICARE For Life

TRICARE For Life is for those who have Medicare and TRICARE. You don't have to enroll - coverage is automatic as long as you show in DEERS as TRICARE-eligible and have Medicare Part A and Part B if needed. When you go to a Medicare doctor, show your Medicare and uniformed service identification cards. Your provider files your claims with Medicare. Medicare pays first and sends the claim to the TRICARE For Life claims processor. TRICARE then pays second for TRICARE-covered services.

If you're an active-duty family member, you don't have to have Medicare Part B to keep your TRICARE benefits. You must have Part B to keep TRICARE once your sponsor retires.

When you move, update your personal information in DEERS as soon as possible. To find a new provider:

If you are within the United States or in U.S. territories (Guam, Puerto Rico, the Northern Mariana Islands, American Samoa or the U.S. Virgin Islands), you can search the Medicare Provider Directory or call 800-633-4227 to find a Medicare-certified provider. Visit the Medicare website or the TRICARE For Life website to learn more.

If you are at an overseas location, TRICARE For Life works a little differently. Medicare doesn't pay for care overseas, TRICARE is your primary payer. You may get care from any civilian provider. You pay up front and then file a claim with the TRICARE overseas contractor. You have to pay TRICARE Standard deductibles and cost shares. You can find a provider through the TRICARE Overseas website or call the overseas regional call center.

Getting care along the way

Before you move, take care of any routine medical needs, including immunizations. Fill your prescriptions so you have enough while traveling. TRICARE defines emergency care as "medical services provided for a sudden or unexpected medical or psychiatric condition or the sudden worsening of a chronic condition that is threatening to life, limb or sight and needs immediate medical treatment or a condition which has painful symptoms that need immediate relief to stop suffering." TRICARE defines urgent care as "medical care for a condition that will not result in disability or death if not treated immediately but should be treated within 24 hours to avoid further complications."

Emergency care when stateside – If you require emergency care while traveling in the United States, call 911 or go to the nearest emergency room. Then call your primary care manager or regional contractor within 24 hours of being seen.

Urgent care when stateside – If you require urgent care while traveling in the United States, are using a Prime option and you're close to a military hospital or clinic, go there. You have priority access and you don't need a referral to be seen. Otherwise, if you have Prime, call or contact your primary care manager for a referral and authorization. If you don't get a referral and authorization before being seen, you'll pay the higher point-of-service deductible and cost share. If you have Prime Remote and don't have an assigned primary care manager, call the provider that acts as your primary provider or call your regional contractor.

Emergency care when overseas – For emergency care, go to the nearest emergency care location. If you're using TRICARE Overseas Program-Prime or Prime Remote, call International SOS Medical Assistance within 24 hours or on the next business day to get an authorization for the visit and needed ongoing care, and claims payment information.

Urgent care when overseas – For urgent care, go to the nearest military clinic or hospital if possible. Visit a U.S. embassy or call the overseas regional call center. You need an authorization before you see a civilian provider. The call center can help you find one. Without an authorization, you'll end up paying a higher point-of-service deductible and cost share. Your claim may be denied if you're an active-duty member. More information is available on the TRICARE Service Center and TRICARE Area Office websites.

If you're using TRICARE Standard or TRICARE For Life, you may get urgent care from any TRICARE-authorized provider. If it's after clinic hours or you're not sure if you need to see a doctor, call TRICARE's Nurse Advice Line at 800-874-2273.

Filling prescriptions while traveling

If you run out of a prescription drug while traveling, contact your military or civilian provider. If you have refills on a military clinic prescription, check to see if your prescription can be moved to and filled by another military treatment facility. If you have refills on your prescription with a major retail pharmacy chain, check with the chain to see if they can transfer your prescription to a local chain pharmacy. If you have refills on a drug you get through TRICARE home delivery, call the TRICARE pharmacy contractor to see what can be done.

If you are within the United States or in U.S. territories and a doctor puts you on a new drug, fill your prescription at a military pharmacy or TRICARE retail network pharmacy. If you are Prime and use a non-network pharmacy, you pay the higher point-of-service deductible and cost share. You may have to pay out of pocket for your drug(s). If so, file a claim with the TRICARE pharmacy contractor. If you are still in an overseas Prime option, you file your claim with the overseas contractor.

If you are at an overseas location, and a doctor puts you on a new drug, fill your prescription at a military pharmacy or go to a civilian pharmacy. You will likely have to pay out of pocket. You file your claim with the TRICARE overseas contractor, even if you are enrolled in a stateside Prime option.

Getting dental care while traveling

Getting dental care while traveling depends on your location and whether you are a service member or family member.

If you are an active-duty service member within the United States or in U.S. territories, you can receive dental care at a military dental clinic. Contact the Active Duty Dental Care Program before you see a dentist and tell the contractor about your move. You will need to get an authorization before you see a dentist. The Active Duty Dental Care Program will work with you so you can get care from a local network dentist. For dental emergencies, go to a military dental clinic if possible. If not, get care from any civilian network dentist and have the dentist give you paperwork showing what he or she did during the visit. Make sure you get the dentist's contact information and call the Active Duty Dental Care Program contractor immediately to let them know about your care so they can work with you to make sure they can pay the claim.

If you are an active-duty service at an overseas location, you can call the overseas regional call center to get authorization before you see a civilian dentist.

If you are an active-duty family member within the United States, in U.S. territories or at an overseas location, you can find out if any nearby military dental treatment facility treats active-duty family members. If you're enrolled in the TRICARE Dental Program, call the TRICARE Dental Program contractor or visit their website to find a provider. You will need to get an authorization before you see the dentist.

Permanent change of station for active-duty service members

With permanent change of station orders, ask for a copy of your medical and dental records from your personnel office, providers/dentists, and medical or dental clinics. Do this at least one month before your permanent change of station date. This way you may be able to carry records to your new duty station.

You may ask providers or the military clinic to transfer your family's medical records to the military hospital or clinic nearest to your new duty station. You may ask to have copies of their records to carry with you or them as well. (You may have to pay to get their records copied.) If you want someone else to be able to get medical or dental information on you or your family while you are moving, you need to complete a DD Form 2870, "Authorization for Disclosure of Medical or Dental Information."

Find more about moving, updating DEERS, the TRICARE regions, pharmacy, dental and much more through the TRICARE website or the TRICARE Moving page.

Child and Youth Programs

The Department of Defense takes great pride in the variety and quality of services provided to children and youth on installations worldwide. While the services provided may vary by location, the standards and quality of services are consistent and meet established regulations.

Child development centers

Child development centers generally offer child care for children ages 6 weeks to 5 years. Care is available Monday through Friday, with some locations offering options, such as extended hours, weekend care and respite care. Child development centers vary in size and larger installations may operate multiple facilities. Programs are certified by the Department of Defense and accredited by a national accrediting body, such as the National Association for the Education of Young Children.

Family child care

Children ages 2 weeks to 12 years may receive care in the private home of a certified care provider living in government-owned or leased housing. Care may also be provided in a state-licensed home in the community. In-home child care is typically available weekdays and with additional care provided during evenings, weekends and flexible hourly care for shift work. Regulations limit the number of children who receive care at any one time to no more than six children under age 8 and no more than two children under age 2. Family child care providers must be certified to operate by the installation. Individual providers may voluntarily seek national accreditation from the National Association of Family Child Care.

School-age programs

School-age programs provide care to children in kindergarten through sixth grade. Care is offered before and after school, during non-school days and summer vacations. School-age programs may be located in Department of Defense youth centers, child development centers or in other suitable facilities. All programs are certified by the Department of Defense and accredited by a national accrediting body, such as the Council on Accreditation.

Youth programs

Dynamic programs for youth ages 5 through 18 years are provided in approximately 300 youth and teen program facilities worldwide. A wide variety of offerings includes activities in physical fitness and sports, the arts, life skills, career and volunteer opportunities. Installation programs may also collaborate with other youth-serving organizations, like the Boys & Girls Clubs of America and USDA/4-H programs.

Waiting lists

Military families may be placed on a waiting list for child care when care is not available. Families may request child care through one of two processes:

Visit MilitaryChildCare.com. The Department of Defense website for military families seeking child care provides access to military-operated child care options across all services. Families may search for and request care, manage their requests, and update their profile online, making it easier for them to find the child care they need. Fill out DD Form 2606, Department of Defense Child Development Program Request for Care Record and return it to the child development center, school-age care facility or resource and referral office on the installation.

School Age Program (SAP)

The School Aged Care Program, housed in the Youth Center, has maintained accreditation since 1999. SAP provides before and after school care during the school year and full-day camp during the summer months for youths kindergarten to eighth grade. The center provides a learning rich environment for children through a variety of activities, games, field trips, and fun. Children are picked up and dropped off at the Youth Center by Meadow Lanes Elementary School and Greenwood Middle School. School-Age staff ensures that all children enrolled in the program get on the bus in the mornings and off the bus in the afternoon. This program expands to "all day" care when school is closed for special occasions or teacher conferences. Cost varies and is based on total family income. For more information contact the School Aged Program Coordinator at 919-722-0369.

Family Child Care (FCC)

SJAFB's Family Child Care program features specially trained and licensed providers who offer in-home care in their base-housing quarters and approved affiliated (off base) homes. These professionals have age appropriate toys, educational materials and safety items. FCC programs offer child care that is comparable to the CDC and they also provide accommodating child care arrangements to include nights, weekends, and flexible hourly or even shift care.

FCC regulations limit the number of children that maybe cared for at one time. Licensed or affiliated homes can have a total of 6 children between the ages of 2 weeks to 12 years (this includes the provider's on children under the age of 8 years). As a gateway to the resources you need, the Military and Family Support Center provides information, support and services to help you balance the demands of military life. The Military and Family Support Center is one part of the overall Family Readiness System, which is the network of agencies, programs, services, partnerships and individuals that supports your personal and family life readiness, mobilization and deployment readiness, and mobility and economic readiness. It should be one of your first stops once you arrive at a new installation. The programs and services are a key resource for you and your family. They include:

Deployment support assists you and your family during all phases of the deployment cycle, providing workshops and services to help meet the challenges of deployment, as well as information and referral to deployment-related resources. Services include education briefings for deploying members and families, support services, morale calls and service-specific programs.

Relocation assistance provides an array services to meet your moving needs. Relocation services include, but are not limited to, relocation workshops that help you prepare for a move, information on installations and communities worldwide and, where offered, a loan closet for basic household items. Relocation assistance also includes assistance with in-transit emergencies. Military and Family Support Centers work with other installation agencies to keep relocation information current, timely and relevant to allow you to make informed decisions and ensure you experience a smooth and successful move.

Personal financial management provides information, education and one-on-one financial counseling to assist you and your family in maintaining your financial readiness. Services are designed to address money management issues throughout your active-duty lifecycle and into retirement. Financial readiness educational opportunities range from basic planning to long-term investing.

Employment assistance offers comprehensive information, tools and resources to support career exploration, training and licensing, and employment readiness. Military and Family Support Centers may offer career counseling, local labor market information, trend tracking, skills and interests identification, job bank referrals and resources for self-employment.

Family life education provides information and education to assist you and your family in developing resilience skills that can help as you navigate your mobile military lives.

The Transition Assistance Program prepares separating, retiring and demobilizing service members (and their families) with the information, skills and knowledge necessary for a successful transition from military to civilian life. The first step in your transition process is to complete the congressionally mandated pre-separation counseling session, which furnishes detailed information on the various benefits and services available. Military and Family Support Centers may provide other services, such as counseling and family advocacy. Services vary by location.

The A&FRC offers the following services: individual counseling, resume assistance, local area employers and job referral information, career exploration, resource library with computers, free internet & Wi-Fi access, fax machine, plus an extensive array of books and pamphlets. Classes are provided to assist with self-assessment, job search skills, resume writing, federal resume, and interviewing skills.

Be sure to hand carry all employment records and documents (resume, Standard Form (SF) 50 (if applicable), DD Form 214 (if prior military)), school transcripts, recent performance appraisals, and credentials (certificates/licenses).

Good Prospects

Employment in the local area is oriented toward service, retail, and health industry. Many jobs exist in clerical, health services, bookkeeping/accounting, food and beverage services, data entry, equipment repair, construction, child care and education.

Many positions exist in retail sales and with the banking industry.

Fair Prospects

Textile manufacturing and information systems have more limited openings.

Local Economic Climate

Seymour Johnson AFB is located in a moderate cost of living area, as reflected by Goldsboro's average median income compared to the North Carolina average; wages and salaries in the local area are lower than the state average. The unemployment rate is 5.5%.

There is a Small Business Center at Wayne Community College which provides one-on-one consulting services, resources, and free seminars. Their goal is to help you realize your dream of owning your own business or making your current business more profitable. For information, visit their website. The North Carolina Division of Workforce Solutions' (formerly Employment Security) NC JobConnector, is the official state Labor Exchange system. Job seekers looking for suitable employment are encouraged to visit their website to take advantage of their online job search, posting and referral services.

Due to the mobile nature of the military lifestyle, individuals with education and/or experience in the health care and education fields often are more successful in finding employment upon relocation than are individuals in other career fields. Because of this, and the relatively low wages paid in the local area, many spouses choose to improve their future employment prospects while at Seymour Johnson AFB, through training or education, rather than seeking employment while their sponsor is assigned here. The A&FRC staff can provide information on current resources available to assist in these areas.

Unemployment Compensation

Unemployment Compensation may be available for the spouse of a newly assigned military member or civilian employee who was employed prior to their move to Seymour Johnson AFB. For information, visit the NC Division of Employment Security website.

The Military Spouse Career Advancement Accounts (MyCAA) Program is an employment assistance program that provides up to $4,000 of financial assistance to eligible military spouses who are pursuing a license, certification or Associate's degree in a portable career field and occupation. For eligibility criteria, list of approved portable careers, etc. visit their website.

The A&FRC staff can provide information on local scholarships offered by base organizations.

Relocation Assistance

Programs and Services

If a permanent change of station, or PCS, is in your future, you may have questions about moving. As part of the Military and Family Support Center, the Relocation Assistance Program provides services and resources to help make this transition as smooth as possible. Here's what they offer:

Individual PCS planning — Most relocation programs offer one-on-one consultation. In particular, those making their first military move, those making their first overseas move or those with challenging or complex situations should contact the relocation assistance office.

MilitaryINSTALLATIONS and Plan My Move — For managing and planning your move, you may want to take advantage of these DoD-sponsored online relocation tools. You can estimate expenses, locate forms for housing and property shipments, and create a moving calendar.

Loan closet — Where available, loan closets offer basic household goods while your personal property is in transit. Typical items include pots and pans, dishes, silverware, irons, ironing boards and infant or toddler car seats. Generally, towels and bed linens are not available, so these should be packed in your express shipment.

Workshops and briefings — Workshops vary from installation to installation, but you may find classes on purchasing real estate and renting, budgeting and finance, moving with children or general moving preparation.

Pre-departure briefings — These briefings may be called Smooth Move or PCS Briefing, and they provide essential information to prevent you from making uninformed and costly decisions before your move.

Settling-in services — Welcome wagon services, local area tours (with child care sometimes provided), or basic household items to use until your goods arrive may be a part of your installation's settling-in services. Overseas arrival services may include introductory language classes and cultural awareness training.

Foreign-born spouse support — Whether your question concerns immigration and naturalization, learning the English language or how to use local transportation, the relocation program provides assistance, classes and referrals.

Emergency assistance — From time to time, emergencies occur while moving. The Relocation Assistance Program office has the resources to provide emergency financial assistance and referrals.

The certificate may be issued within 60 days of their date of departure, which may be different from the date of retirement. The Child Care for PCS program does not include members who are separating from the AF, or members moving for reasons other than retirement or PCS.

Heartlink is the official spouse orientation program to the Air Force and the base. This program is designed to enable families to quickly acclimate and become familiar with programs and resources available at the installation. The wing commander drops by to welcome in our families and returns to officially "coin" our spouses who complete the program. It is presented in a light-hearted, game-oriented manner and a complimentary brunch and child care are provided. Topics covered include protocol, familiarization with the base mission and construction projects underway, free child care for volunteers, spouse employment, spouse scholarships, key spouse program, a base-wide bus tour, programs for families with children, Family Life Education programs available, and programs that support families impacted by deployment. Call the Airman & Family Readiness Center for further information.

First Duty Station Married Airmen's Briefing (First Flight), a one-on-one session, with preferably both the military member and spouse. Designed to be presented immediately after arrival to make sure that Airmen are aware of the financial options available before making any commitments.

Family Services is an all volunteers activity within the Airman and Family Readiness Center, that provides the following relocation services:

Brochure/Information Packages -- Consisting of directories, maps, realtor information, etc, these packages are forwarded from all the major installations world-wide. They can be checked out for 24-hours, and should be remembered when on a TDY also. Many installations also provided videos.

The Loan Closet --The Loan Closet at the Airman & Family Readiness Center is equipped with sleeping mats, pots & pans, dishes, alarm clocks, card tables, chairs, strollers, pack n' play/play pens, car seats, etc. Military members and their families may check these items out (free of charge) by bringing a copy of their orders and their Identification card. PCS personnel, in or out, have first priority and may check these items out for 30 days. Loans are usually for two weeks and if needed loans can be extended depending upon circumstances.

The Airman's Attic -- The Attic has donated items that the military members and their families, in the grades of E-6 (TSgt) and below, can receive free of charge. There are specifications on the number of certain items one family may receive per month and E-5's & E-6's are not allowed to get certain items if E-4 or below is on the waiting list for those items. Check in to see what is available for you.

Married military members will want to be sure to check with the Housing Referral Office to see what rentals are available in the area. If you are choosing not to live on base, don't forget to check with Housing before signing a lease or contract.

Separations from the military are handled by the Separations and Retirement Section of the Military Personnel Flight.

Once the decision is made that you will be separating or retiring, whether because of your decision or due to other controls, contact the MPF Section to begin your separation or retirement process.

Domestic Abuse Reporting Options

Restricted report: In most instances, domestic abuse victims may request a restricted report, which allows for confidential medical care, counseling, victim advocacy and support services, such as safety planning and legal assistance, without command notification or a law enforcement investigation. A victim must contact a medical care provider or Family Advocacy Program professional to request the restricted reporting option.

Unrestricted report: If a domestic abuse victim requests an unrestricted report, the sponsor's commander is promptly notified, law enforcement is involved and administrative action against the offender may be taken. The victim remains eligible for all victim advocacy services, including safety planning, legal assistance and specialized support. Contact military law enforcement or the Family Advocacy Program to make an unrestricted report. In an emergency, call 911.

Eligibility Requirements

Family Advocacy Program services are available to service members and family members eligible for care in a military treatment facility. Intimate partners and others may qualify for limited support and referrals as appropriate. Contact your installation Family Advocacy Program for details.

Financial Assistance

Personal Financial Readiness Program

The Personal Financial Readiness Program emphasizes personal financial responsibility and accountability by providing basic principles and practices of sound money management, counseling tools, and referral services. The Financial Manager is available for those who are experiencing money management difficulties or for those who wish to be in control of their finances. A Financial counselor can work with you to prepare a personalized budget and spending plan. Information and assistance is also available in areas such as military pay and allowances, consumer rip-offs, savings, insurance, car buying, the financial aspects of home buying, credit card management, and much more.

A wide range of classes are available, including: Building Your Financial Foundation, Improving Your Credit Score, Investing in Your Future- The Thrift Savings Plan, Understanding the Car Buying Game, Moving Off-Base Budgeting, Identity Theft Prevention, and more.

To schedule an appointment with a Financial Counselor or to register for a workshop call 919-722-1123 or DSN 312-722-1123.

Air Force Aid Society

There also are Air Force Aid Representatives, located in the Airman and Family Readiness Center who will assist you with any type of emergency financial need. They will assess each case and act accordingly. If an emergency happens while in transit go to the nearest military base (any branch of the service) for assistance. If no military base is available go to the nearest Red Cross office. Of course, the American Red Cross is available to also assist in emergency (loss of family member) situations. Don't hesitate to contact these agencies should an emergency arise.

Advance Pay

When relocating you are eligible to draw an Advance Pay to assist with costs associated with the PCS. Remember that these repayments will be automatically withdrawn from the service member's pay monthly, which can reduce monthly income. Often, relocating costs more than one originally anticipates. If you find yourself in a financial pinch, please investigate loans through Air Force Aid (ask about the Falcon Loan), Advance Pay, or personal loan with your banking institution. Avoid pay-day loans at all costs! Becoming and remaining financially-fit is critical to your success in the Air Force. Don't wait until it's too late to request assistance.

Child Care for PCS

The Air Force Aid Society and the Family Child Care Office (FCC) have joined to provide 20 hours of free child care (per child). Stop by the Airman and Family Readiness Center for a certificate to use as a voucher with the FCC. This "Child Care for PCS" opportunity expires 60 days after your arrival.

Emergency Assistance

Planning for Emergencies

No matter how well you've planned, emergencies do happen.

For Assistance En Route:

First of all, look for the nearest military installation. If there is no installation listed for the area, then we suggest you call AAA, if you are members, or ask the local information operator for a hospital or road service, depending on the emergency.

Be sure to contact your sponsor or your unit orderly room/First Sergeant. If you do not have a sponsor nor know the phone number for your squadron, call the Military Personnel Section at 919-722-8686 and they will coordinate with your gaining unit. If it is after duty hours, contact the Command Post at 919-722-2679 or DSN 312-722-2679 and provide them with as much information as possible about the incident and your squadron.

American Red Cross

The American Red Cross and the Air Force Aid Society are available for emergency aid. Red Cross phone numbers are usually listed in the white pages of the local phone directory. They can help with emergency financial assistance and contacting people that will need to know where you are and what's happening.

Air Force Aid Society

There also are Air Force Aid Representatives, located in the Airman and Family Readiness Center who will assist you with any type of emergency financial need. They will assess each case and act accordingly. If an emergency happens while in transit go to the nearest military base (any branch of the service) for assistance. If no military base is available go to the nearest Red Cross office. Of course, the American Red Cross is available to also assist in emergency (loss of family member) situations. Don't hesitate to contact these agencies should an emergency arise.

Emergency Contacts/Organizations

A number of agencies or people on base are available to assist you during emergencies. Your First Sergeant, Commander, and individual unit will preferably be your first points of contact during an emergency. Security Force Base Defense Operations Center is available 24/7 by calling (919) 722-7592 and the Base Command Post at (919) 722-0004.

Victim Advocate

For immediate emergency assistance call the Military Police at 919-722-0911.
